

MR. AND MRS. GANZ ARRIVED YESTERDAY

Further Details of Their Recent Wedding and the Story of Their Meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Ganz arrived here yesterday morning from Los Angeles, where they were married on Thursday night, and will be at home to their friends after October 15. Concerning the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Ganz, of which The Republican has a telegraphic account, the Los Angeles Times described as follows:

A pretty romance which had its beginning three years ago at Coronado, extended to Los Angeles and thence to Phoenix, Ariz., reached its culmination last evening at 6 o'clock when Emil Ganz, president of the National Bank of Arizona at Phoenix, and beautiful Elsie Bryson of Los Angeles were married.

The ceremony took place in the parlors of the Angelus hotel, and Rev. Frank D. Talmage officiated. Only the immediate friends of the bride and a few friends of the groom were present. Immediately following the ceremony, a sumptuous banquet was served in the red room of the hotel.

Mr. Ganz is well up in the fifties, but is ruddy and sturdy as a man ten years his junior. His bride is a beautiful, fair haired young woman of scarcely more than half the age of Mr. Ganz, and has a large circle of friends in the city.

Three years ago, when Mr. Ganz was spending the summer at Coronado, he met Miss Bryson. His friends say it was love at first sight. He sought after the golden-haired young lady assiduously, and despite his handicap of considerable years, finally won her attention. The courtship proceeded with leaps and bounds, and the banker of Phoenix has paid close and constant attention to Miss Bryson for the last three years. He has given parties at the various summer resorts in this vicinity and Miss Bryson was always present, and then he has invited the young lady and her parents to Phoenix, where more entertainments followed. Finally the day was set and for the last three weeks there has been a fever of preparation for the affair.

The summer months have been spent by Mr. Ganz and the Brysons at Ocean Park and Coronado, but yesterday the white-haired groom appeared at the Angelus and asked for a suite. He also asked that a banquet be prepared for the evening, and then thoughtfully ordered the parlors to be made ready for him about 6 o'clock, as he would be married.

The lady had not put in an appearance as yet, and the hotel attaches were in a fever of expectancy as to who would be the bride of this stalwart, white-haired man.

About 5:30 o'clock Dr. Talmage arrived and asked if a man named Ganz was staying at the hotel. On being told that there was, he stated that he had a small "job" to do in the way of tying the matrimonial bonds.

Promptly at 6 o'clock the ceremony was performed. George A. Mintz, a friend of the groom and a well-known resident of Phoenix, was master of ceremonies, and there was no other attendants. The ceremony was simple.

HASSAYAMPA PICNIC AND ANNUAL BANQUET

The Annual Function of the Arizona Tourists in the Angel City.

The Arizona tourist season in California was officially closed last Friday night with a big banquet in the Hotel Alexandria. There are still a great many Arizonians in Los Angeles and vicinity and will be for a month yet, but they are strangers now to the same as tourists from other parts, and local affairs in California have reverted back to the keeping of the natives. The official closing was the banquet of the Hassayampa club that came as the final feature of several days of organized festivity by the Arizona people who maintain this society in Los Angeles, holding annual gatherings late in the summer.

There was a day of revelry at Naples when about 500 Arizonians were in attendance, and a night of vaudeville at the Orpheum and various other amusement features, all ending with the big banquet at the Alexandria, which was attended by about 200 people. The banquet was a fine one and was looked after officially by President Chas. M. Shannon of Clifton and the secretary, John S. Mitchell of Los Angeles, formerly of Arizona. At the proper time Robert E. Morrison of Prescott, was introduced as toastmaster. He delivered a very interesting talk on the name of the club, with stories of the Hassayampa river and a lot of complimentary things about Arizona and Arizonians, after which he introduced Congressman McLachlan of California, one of the friends of Arizona who stood by her in her life and death struggle with the United States congress.

Mr. McLachlan, who was present at the banquet the year before, gave a pleasing talk, congratulating Arizona on her single blessedness and on the character of her people who had done so much to help make Los Angeles what it is. Then he came very near making a mistake. He referred to a suggested project to unite Arizona and southern California in one state. He was only trying to be complimentary and intimated that he would not object to such a movement, for he knew what a splendid lot of good southern California citizens the Arizonians would make. Fortunately though, he pleaded not guilty to fathering the movement and was not trying to force Arizona into another wedding alliance against her will. Governor Kibbey was introduced as a "water witch," the title originating in his connection with irrigation affairs. The governor was given a warm welcome and speaking with modesty of his personal efforts and with blowing brilliancy as to the territory over which he is chief executive. Incidentally, he intimated that the people of Arizona had a feeling that their boundaries are already wide enough without taking in any adjacent territory or giving up anything now possessed in the way of individuality.

Delegate Marcus A. Smith also spoke, dwelling very largely on the statehood question and the repeated fights in congress. He was loudly applauded as were a number of others who followed in short talks, completing an evening of the greatest pleasure.

Among the guests were many former Arizonians now residing in Los Angeles and representatives from almost every city and town in the home land, who chanced to be in California at the time. A partial list of the guests follows:

Re E. Morrison, James McLachlan, Governor Kibbey, Dr. Ketcherside, W. J. Gilmore, Mrs. A. J. Scofield, Miss Daily, S. A. Giles, G. B. Hinds, Abe Zimmerman, H. J. Messenger, D. A. Millette, Secretary and Mrs. John S. Mitchell and Miss Mitchell, F. W. Hunt, Frank Johnson, Dan Angius, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Finletter, Miss L. R. Marrion, U. S. Low, George Mitchell, J. C. Earman, Joseph Pascholy, O. F. Townsend, Judge W. H. Savage, Miss Jo Savage, J. H. Messenger, M. Z. Elliott, Chief Justice Kent, ex-Chief Justice Baker, Marcus A. Smith, A. S. Fox, D. W. Staley, Frank Gill, W. H. Park, Judge E. A. Hayes, C. V. Meed, Louis T. Martin, C. T. Martin, J. E. O'Brien, Frank Dysart, Charles Melline, Alonzo Bailey, C. P. Martin, Dr. Scroggs, Mr. and Mrs. Rol King, ex-Governor Louis Wolfley, Mrs. Wolfley, W. T. McNell, G. E. Moon, Mrs. Edward Kent, Dr. and Mrs. William Duffield, Bert Dunlap, Captain C. W. Anderson, J. P. Frewitt and A. J. Edward.

GROWING GATEWAY OF THE SOUTH-WEST

Mexican Roads Radiating From Nogales, Ariz., Like the Spokes of a Wheel.

Nogales, Ariz., Sept. 13.—(Special Correspondence of The Republican).—C. S. Chapman, chief of the Organization division of the forest reserves, agricultural department, was a visitor to Nogales this week and made an address before the board of trade at their regular meeting. After reference to many things of interest to this section of the country he said that the fee for grazing would be reduced from 25 cents, the present price, to 30 cents during the coming year. That the forest reserves are proving of decided advantage to cattlemen whereby the fences are mended, water holes dug, and water in some cases piped some distance. Over half a million dollars is annually being spent in this way, and where places were mere deserts years ago, now trees, shrubbery and grasses are covering the ground.

One of the most interesting fiestas ever held in Nogales, Sonora, will be that of next week, when Independence day will be observed, September 16th. Arrangements are being perfected for a great time, and every form of entertainments will be indulged in. Baseball, running races, athletics, children's games and speeches will be the order of the week, and all ending up with a grand ball. Governor Torres has prohibited gambling of any kind, and as a consequence the affair promises to be one of the most delightful ever held. Contributions from both sides of the line have been made, and already the streets are being decorated with swinging flags and bunting. The street parade will be an attractive feature, never before attempted and over fifteen floats will be in line. Prizes are to be given for best decorated floats. The day will be observed as a general holiday all over this section and as special rates have been secured both north and south large crowds are sure to be on hand.

The hotels are having a heavy run of business at this season of the year. Many mining men, as well as druggists, are coming south early, and as the activity in mining circles seems to be as noticeable as ever, it is a settled fact that the hotels and business houses have no reason to complain.

In a few weeks work will be commenced on the cementing of the sidewalk on the principal residence streets and soon we will have as attractive a town as any one could wish for. Instructions have been issued from headquarters making Nogales, Sonora, the western terminus of the Cananea, Yaqui River and Pacific railroad. This road is now pushing its lines into southern Mexico and soon it is expected to reach Guadalupe. The determination to make the same town the terminus of the new Cananea and Nogales road will have a marked effect on the business interests of all this section of the country.

The advent of the two new railroads into Nogales has already stimulated trade in all directions and the effect has become greatly noticeable in the custom receipts at this point. When the shops, buildings and offices are located here it is natural to suppose the custom service in Arizona will become one of the most important in the whole southwest. The force now is hardly adequate to meet the demands upon it, and the business is increasing all along the line.

But few men are able to retain their self-reliance after marriage.—Chicago News.

CHANGE FOOD.
And Lose That Uneasy Feeling.

A man who has always been a "skinny chap," although hardly ever ill, tells of the way he put on flesh and reduced his irritability and nervous condition. By chance he had a taste of Grape-Nuts food at the table of a friend and enjoyed the flavor so much that he began to have it every meal. He says: "In a short time I found myself another person, the old feeling of discontent and uneasiness left me entirely, it became a pleasure to go about my work, whereas, before for years, I had always had the feeling of being a little weary, but now I seem to have a surplus of energy for everything; my weight has increased 11 pounds in four weeks, and am still gaining. 'I have never been very sick and am satisfied if my present improvement in health continues, I shall not be.' 'The change that this food has made in my life has been remarkable and so satisfactory that I am glad of the opportunity to tell you.' Read 'The Road to Wellville' in pkgs. 'There's a Reason.'
